The good result of stocking the river with the large spotted or Mississippi river catfish is shown by the large quantities now being caught in the river. Off the docks here they bite at almost any kind of bait, and catches of fish weighing as high as five pounds each are not uncommor When hooked these fish make a hot fight for liberty. Fish weighing twenty pounds are being caught in the river nets, but in the Mississippi, it is stated, they often weigh three or four hundred pounds.

RECEIPTS FOR TAXES

CHANGE IN METHODS OF SIGN-ING SAME.

Commissioner West Orders New System for Better Identification of Officials Receiving Money.

Commissioner West, who has supervision of the tax and assessment offices, has ordered a change in the manner of signing receipts for taxes. Heretofore the receipts have simply been stamped with the name of Mr. E. G. Davis, the collector, with the initials of the cashier or clerk receiving the money. There has been some criticism of this system, as it was claimed that in the event of a contest it would be difficult to establish the identity of the person receiving the money, especially as his official position is not stated in any way. Mr. A. B. Duvall, the corporation counsel, rendered an opinion in regard to the matter some time ago, holding that the form of the receipts was good in law. Commissioner West, however, has deemed it wise to order a change, which will do away with all criticism and make the receipts completely explicit. He has addressed a letter to the collector of taxes,

Mr. Davis, on the subect, saying:
"It seems to me that all criticism as to the character of the tax receipts could be avoided by having a series of stamps made bearing your name as collector, with blank line following on which the name of the official receiving the money can be written, and underneath his title, whether deputy collector, cashler, or assistant cashler. The same stamp might also include the date. This system would not increase the labors of your clerks, and would prove a more complete means of identification should the receipt be questioned at any time in the future. There should also be no question that the official who signs your name should have ample authority for doing so. The matter of a change in the form of signing tax receipts was brought before the Commissioners more than a year ago by Mr. Thomas W. Gilmer. The matter was referred by the Commissioners to the corporation counsel, who submitted an opinion in which he said:

"The collector states that every receipt for taxes issued from his office carries an official stamp, stating the fact and time of payment, and in addition thereto the clerk ndling the bill after payment also stamps the collector's name and then adds the initials of his own name by way of identification. There is no statute providing the form for the collector of taxes. His receipt. therefore. In whatever form it may given stands on the same footing as the re-ceipt of an individual; and in the event it is questioned similar proof would have to be made. I am of the opinion that the above described receipt of the collector of taxes is good and sufficient in law and not defective in form.

Matter Again Brought Up.

Mr. Gilmer recently called the Commis sioners' attention again to the matter. His communication followed the Watson cmbezzlement, which called forth a good deal of criticism. In reply to his letter Mr. Gilmer was furnished with a copy of the former opinion of the corporation counsel. Last Wednesday Mr. Gilmer again addressed a letter to the Commissioners asking them to reopen the base. "The present form of receipt." said Mr. Gilmer, "could denied, and there would be nothing to hold the collector except the initials of an irresponsible clerk. These initials are often illegible. In case of a contest it would be almost impossible for the tax payer to prove that he paid over the money. There-fore I ask you to direct tax receipts to be evidenced by the autograph signature of the collector or deputy collector, the sur-name to be written in full, and the official proving the form of the receipt. a statute. It is not a question of law; it is only of common sense." In reply to this last communication Commissioner West wrote to Mr. Gilmer inclosing a copy of his communication to the collector suggesting a change in the method of signature. Mr. West had already taken this action when Mr. Gilmer's last letter reached the District building, showing that Mr. West had decided to improve the form of tax receipts notwithstanding the counsel's opinion.

WANTS TO USE DYNAMITE.

Method of Removing Tree Stumps From Railway Property. Charles E. Stewart of 3d and R streets northeast has asked permission of the Commissioners to use dynamite in blowing up tree stumps on the lot bounded by Brentwood road, Florida avenue, Quincy street Immigration of Colored People to and Eckington Heights, the property of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. This will be granted provided every precaution is taken in the work.

W. J. Douglass, engineer of bridges, has reported that there were about 200 oak trees about eighteen inches in diameter to be blasted, all of which will require heavy charges of dynamite. "On account," says he, "of the houses in the vicinity of the lot I recommend that the applicant be required to deposit $100 with the collector of taxes to defray the expense of a District inspector on the work, and that the permit incorpo, ate paragraphs to the effect as follows:

The large British steamer Myrtledene laden with asphalt from Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad, for this city, is expected here next week. The draft of the ship as at present loaded is too great to admit of her coming up the Potomac, and she will go to Baltimore first and after unloading a portion of her cargo will come to this city to complete the discharge of her cargo at the Georgetown wharves. She will be the first foreign steamship to come into Washington's harbor in many years, and her coming is awaited with interest.

SUGGESTION OFFERED

FOR SOLVING RACE PROBLEM IN THIS COUNTRY ..

Philippines Mentioned as a Means of Settling the Question.

A banquet was given at Gray & Costley's cafe last night by prominent colored men of this city in honor of T. Thomas Fortune, the well-known colored writer and economist, who has recently returned from the Philippines and Hawaii, where he made a special investigation for the United States government. The guest of honor made a brilliant speech, in which he hinted at immigration to the Philippines as the true solution of the race problem in this country. Mr. Fortune has devoted considerable time to the study of the condition of the negro in the United States, and has written many articles for magazines and newspapers with this subject as his inspiration. He is the editor of a newspaper for colored people in New York, and was especially selected for the mission to the Philippines because of his familiarity with the question

After being introduced, following the serving of an excellent menu last night, Mr. Fortune devoted a few moments to a general discussion of the race question in this country and reverted to the Philippines as

"What of the Philippine Islands and the Filipino people? And here is another and mighty problem of race squarely under the merican flag and clean out from under the American Constitution. And in this aspect f it, at least, we are companions of theirs. for it is construed that we stand largely where they stand-outside of the American Constitution, but under the American flag. The hazards of war make strange bedfellows, but none stranger than this of the Afro-American and iFlipino peoples.

Resources of the Islands.

"The islands are rich beyond the dreams of avarice in agricultural and mineral resources, and they are capable of sustaining 50,000,000 instead of the 10,000,000 people they now sustain. They need new life. They need much increase of population of men and women who have large, strong, physical development, who love eternal summer and who are not afraid of honest toil. And nature has ordained it so that the white man cannot live in the Philippines except as a parasite; he may suck blood there, but he can create none that has not in it the elements of hasty decay. But the negrohe was born in the sun, and honest toil has been his portion through the dull ages since the Sphynx lifted her head out of the sand of Egypt and dared the wise men of all times to solve the riddle of him. And do these facts suggest a solution of two race problems to you? Perhaps." Short addresses were made by Judson W.

TENTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY. Occasion for Reception to Rev. E. B.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bagby were tendered a reception last evening by the members of the Ninth Street Christian Church, the occasion being the tenth anniversary of their wedding. That the pastor and his wife are highly esteemed by the congregation was evidenced in the demonstration last evening. The tenth anniversary of a marriage is ordinarily known as the "tin wedding anniversary," when tin utensils are presented to the couple. This custom was not strictly followed last evening, however, for Mr. and Mrs. Bagby were presented with many valuable china pieces. The reception began at 8 o'clock when, to the strains of Lohengrin's "wedding march," the minister and his wife march-ed into the church parlors and took seats under an improvised wedding bower. They were preceded by little Miss Anna Lith-gon, who strewed the path with flowers, and ten little girls. Following the minister congregation. Mr. George W. Pratt, as chairman of the general committee of the occasion, delivered the gift of the Ladies' Aid Society.

The church was tastefully decorated with a profusion of palms, ferns, cut flowers, flags and bunting.

BOUGHT A BEGGING LETTER. Trick of an Italian Woman to Obtain

Charity. Marie Maria, a neatly dressed Italian woman, was a prisoner in the Police Court this morning charged with vagrancy. She was arrested on East Capitol street yesterday for soliciting aid at various houses. The woman had a printed letter setting out that she was the mother of five children and that she was in need because her husband had been ill for a long time. Seated in Judge Kimball's court when the case was called were two daughters of the woman. The elder daughter, who is about eighteen years old, told Judge Kimball she could not understand why her mother had begged.
"I'm employed," she said, "and am perfectly able and willing to support her."
Her mother, she informed the court, also works.

The woman admitted that there was no truth in the statements contained in the letter. She told the court that she bought the letter from an Italian and paid him 50

She was fined $30, and her daughter said she would pay the mother's fine in order to prevent her incarceration in the work-house for three months. Ten minutes later she returned and paid the fine.

To Proceed Against Mr. Lincoln.

The Commissioners have instructed the corporation counsel, Mr. Duvall, to enter legal proceedings at once against S. Dana Lincoln for illegal occupation of public space along the banks of the James Creek canal. This action has been taken on the initiative of Col. John Biddle, the Engineer Commissioner. who states that on February 4, 1903, papers were forwarded to the corporation counsel with instructions to insti-tute proceedings against Mr. Lincoln, trading as the National Mortar Company, who was alleged to be unlawfully occupying space along the canal and refusing or neg-lecting to accept a lease on the terms offered him by the Commissioners.

"At this date, June 26," says Col. Biddle, "Mr. Lincoln is still occupying the space and I understand that the case against him has been noile prossed, but under what authority I do not know. I move that the corporation counsel be directed to institute immediate legal proceedings against Mr. Lincoln, who has been occupying this space since the 1st of July last (and for a long time prior thereto) without the payment of rent, while all other occurrents of space. rent, while all other occupants of space on this canal have been paying rent since the 1st of last July." The recommendation was approved by Commissioner West and the papers went forward today.

Found Guilty of Vagrancy. Two elderly men, whose names wer given as John Daley and William Hender son, were complained against in the Police Court today for vagrancy. It was alleged that they were idle persons and that they had been found repeatedly drunk about the Central Union Mission. One of them said he wanted to go to the almshouse & few days ago. He was given car fare and he used it for liquor instead of giving it to the railroad company. Judge Kimball held them guilty and sent them down, the former for thirty days and the latter for
